Annwyl Rieni a gofalwyr,

I am delighted to let you know that our Estyn report has been published.

This is an incredibly positive report that reflects the hard work and great efforts of our staff, pupils, and community.

The report details and recognises the many strengths in our school including in the areas of pupil progress, questioning, verbal feedback, pupil attitudes to learning, the development of oracy and reading skills, provision of pupils with additional learning needs, progress of pupils in our Specialist Resource Base, pupil development of creative skills, development of thinking skills, our progressive curriculum, wellbeing, personal and social education, and the culture of safeguarding.

I am also delighted to let you know that our report includes two spotlights. Spotlights are for interesting and innovative practice which are identified by Estyn. Our two spotlights are for the school's work in 'establishing a culture of reading' and for 'the provision of extra-curricular activities to support pupil well-being and create a sense of belonging'. We are very proud of this.

Following inspection, Estyn leaves schools with recommendations to improve further. We are now excited to continue work on our recommendations mentioned in the report.

Congratulations to all pupils, staff, and the whole community for a wonderful Estyn report, which you thoroughly deserve.

Thank you for your positivity and support.

Yn gywir,

Mr J. Watson
